

On-Campus Application Calendar

The specific calendar dates are only a timeline for a successful completion and do not have to be followed exactly. However, each On-campus student should allow enough time to successfully apply by March 1st (or earlier) to be considered for admission for the Fall semester of that year. For outreach students, the Fall semester Calendar would be exactly the same as the On-campus calendar. For outreach students applying for admission in the Spring semester, all applications should be submitted by September 1st.

August 1st

Request an Admissions Packet to receive all required forms and information about applying to the Auburn Graduate School and MBA Program, or download forms from the Application Forms page.

September 1st

Sign up to take the GMAT at your preferred time. Remember, you may only take the GMAT once per month. Allow time for a second or third trial if you need to improve your score. Only the highest score will be considered for admission.

October 1st

If necessary, sign up to take the TOEFL.

November 1st

Submit an e-application to the Auburn University Graduate School.

December 1st

Organize three letters of recommendation

January 1st

Submit request to your school for Official Transcript

February 1st

Turn in Final Application (complete with paper application, 2 essays, 3 letters of recommendation, e-application to graduate school, official transcript, signed Code of Ethics, official GMAT scores, official TOEFL scores if necessary, and current resume)

March 1st

Deadline for MBA Application. After this date, only applications receiving priority will be considered for admission.

Outreach Application Calendar

All Outreach Students applying for the Fall semester should follow the same calendar as On-Campus Students. The following calendar is only for those Outreach Students applying for the Spring semester.

February 1st

Request an Admissions Packet to receive all required forms and information about applying to the Auburn Graduate School and MBA Program, or download forms from the Application Forms page.

March 1st

Sign up to take the GMAT at your preferred time. Remember, you may only take the GMAT once per month. Allow time for a second or third trial if you need to improve your score. Only the highest score will be considered for admission.

April 1st

If necessary, sign up to take the TOEFL.

May 1st

Submit an e-application to the Auburn University Graduate School.

June 1st

Organize three letters of recommendation

July 1st

Submit request to your school for Official Transcript

August 1st

Turn in Final Application (complete with paper application, 2 essays, 3 letters of recommendation, e-application to graduate school, official transcript, signed Code of Ethics, official GMAT scores, official TOEFL scores if necessary, and current resume)

September 1st

Deadline for MBA Application. After this date, only applications receiving priority will be considered for admission.